

VOGUE

December 5, 2017

The Ultimate Holiday Gift Guide for Every Guy in Your Life

By Rachel Waldman and Ahnna Lee

Legend has it that men are the simplest to shop for—but try holding on to this thought when you're standing in the middle of a store days before the holidays with that lost and anxious feeling. Sure, dear old Dad says (again) that he doesn't want anything for the holidays—but you're obviously not going to show up empty-handed. A bottle of Raen Pinot Noir from the Sonoma Coast-based winemaker brothers Carlo and Dante Mondavi may be just the thing to put a smile on his face.

And what of shopping for your other half? Will a hand-dyed Philip Huang sweatshirt-and-pants set come off as overly committal—or make a sweet gesture? Then there's your fashion-forward friend who seemingly has it all: Surprise him with a new sportswear label, Jacques, that's destined to up his gym-dressing game. Before you spin out and resolve never to bother with holiday shopping again, have a scroll through the slideshow above for the best how-did-he-ever-live-without-it items for all the men in your life.

[59/68]

Jean Prouvé, double-volume books, $266, ideabooks.com
Photo: Courtesy of ideabooks.com